FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – October 30, 2012

WNY's biggest basketball league has been invited to Cleveland to play at Quicken Loans Arena.

Cleveland, OH – On Saturday, November 17th, Western New York's largest basketball league will be opening up for the Cleveland Cavaliers who are set to take on the Dallas Mavericks.

Over 300 players from around Western New York will take the three hour trip to Cleveland, Ohio to watch or play in this exciting event sponsored by Buffalo's own health and wellness organization, the Buffalo Sports & Wellness Association. The BSWA players will take the court at 4 p.m. to play in their seasonal All-Star game before the 7:30 pm tip-off of the Cleveland Cavaliers game. Discounted tickets are still available as low as $20, but hurry...they are going fast!

Buffalo area basketball enthusiasts are excited for this landmark event. Former D'Youville Spartans player Shawn Satarian says, "I just think now with how this league has grown that potentially it could be a story for ESPN... I know myself, it's like a dream come true to play in an NBA arena. I just feel like the league is a good story for something like that and it would be great exposure for the league and put Healthy Buffalo on the map."

The Buffalo Sports & Wellness Association is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization offering community sports leagues for all levels of athleticism, nutritional advice via their interactive website, recommended training regimens and community sponsored events and programs in an attempt to help make Buffalo, NY a healthier, more vibrant community.
